Dear Carla,

Thank you very much for your presentation for the afternoon panel discussion at the 2005 Program on Law and State Government Fellowship Symposium. Your important and interesting remarks contributed to what was a successful day of learning and discussion about integrity in public service. I think that your experience as well as research really helped the participants of this event to better understand the problems associated with ethics in government. I especially enjoyed your personal experience in ethics prosecutions as well as the "ethics elephant".

I would also like to take this opportunity to remind you that the Indiana Law Review is publishing a symposium issue dedicated to government ethics in the Spring. Although I cannot speak for the board, in my opinion, your paper would provide a valuable addition to this publication. If you have any questions about this, please feel free to contact me. Or, if you'd rather, please just forward your comments to the Symposium Issue editor, Mr. Derek Julius (djulius@iupui.edu). Derek will take it from there.

Thank you again for your contribution, and I look forward to working with you!

Sincerely,
